1	Project title Where and when the project happened in Hertfordshire	'From Village to Town, Celebrating a Century of Migration in Elstree and Borehamwood'
2	Describe your project briefly.	Our project set out to investigate the history behind the increasingly diverse communities in our town. Through interviews with local residents, all of all ages, and backgrounds, we looked at why our town has become the place it is, and our hopes and visions for the future. The end result took the form of a museum exhibition, with audio listening posts, and related community events.
3	What were the aims of your project?	To engage the different communities in our town, many of whom had not previously mixed, and were not even aware of the museum, and community centre.
4	What happened as a result of your project?	We engaged with a wide range of people, who shared with us, their memories, and thoughts on their lives in Elstree and Borehamwood.
5	What evidence did you produce to show your project's impact?	The Museum now holds a collection of oral history interviews, which will serve as a record and snapshot of life and experiences in our town in 2016/17.
6	What 2 tips would you offer to someone else running a similar project?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Never assume anything about people! • Remember everyone's experience is totally different
